I had several other contributions from this person and had listed his occupation as "Contractor" and had not been asked by Sec. of State/Elections Division to provide additional information on the occupation. When I checked the rules book for "contractor" in the list of occupation requiring additional information I did not see it listed so I assumed there had been a mistake on the part of the Elections Division. Apparently not. Although I can list "retired" without further explanation I can not list Contractor without incurring an infraction. I believe the rules need to be more specific - if more information is required for "contractor", it should be on the list.
