TESTIMONY:

The 2nd Pre-Election report was prepared, completed and signed on May 3, 2004. Since I had completed it early and the report wasn't due until May 6, 2004, I decided that I would mail it that day instead of faxing the report as I usually do. The envelope was run through the postage meter and was left on my desk so that I could take it to the post office on my way to lunch. Before lunch on May 3, 2004, I got hit with the flu virus that was going around our office and ended up with both the stomach and intestinal parts of it and left the office and went home sick. I was home from work very sick until May 7, 2004. To be very honest, I was so ill that I didn't even remember the report until I got back to work on the 7th and saw it on my desk. I put it immediately into the mail on the day I returned to the office. I haven't been late with any reports prior to this date or after this date and would ask for a waiver of any penalty that might be imposed. I take this job very seriously and would never intentionally miss a filing date. There were extenuating circumstances that were out of my control with regards to this report.

Thank you for your courtesy in this matter.
