TESTIMONY:

I did not submit this report one day late. It arrived one day late because Federal Express delivered it to the wrong room at the State Capitol.

Attached is a copy of the Federal Express label received by them on 10/20/04 addressed to Oregon Secretary of State, 141 State Capitol, Room 141, Salem, OR 97310-0722. Federal Express guaranteed next day delivery on this parcel.

On 10/22/04, I was informed that the Elections Division web page indicated the report was one day late.

I spoke with Elections Division representatives at least three times the afternoon of 10/22/04 and they confirmed that Federal Express delivered the envelope to the main mail room at the State Capitol, in error, as it was properly addressed to Room 141. The telephone records should reflect that I was told, by Jan, I believe, that the error was not mine and the report would not be designated late, but the matter might be reviewed.

Note that the delivery was made on 10/21/04 to the main mail room.

Therefore, even if the report was designated as received late, the penalty should be waived pursuant to "Reductin or Waiver of Penalty" paragraph c):

"The lateness was the direct result of failure of a professional delivery service to deliver documents in the time guaranteed", though in this case the error in delivery was to the wrong location.
